Product & Version

KWizCom Clipboard Manager Standard Evaluation 11.x.xx for SharePoint 2010

Answer:

Based on the error it seems the error is reading the HTML file. Try to troubleshooting with the following steps:

1. Please check if this file and that folder exist on the client machine.
2. Try to restart the computer, and also, check what programs are running in the background (ms word?)

Recommend to restart PC and try it without running any other applications in the background first (just open word, copy, close word, and try to paste)

3. Check the windows update for .NET framework is installed successfully
